ABOUT THE STATE

The Boston Globe of Sunday contained an account of the life of a Rutland woman, Mrs. Oscar Brown, who is 96 years old. She is in very good health and takes great interest in local affairs.

A large amusement park is being built at Brattleboro on the island across the Connecticut. Large base ball bleachers are being erected, and during the summer the promoters will provide vaudeville attractions.

Henry Adams of Rutland has resigned as foreman of the car department of the Rutland railroad after 21 years of continuous service, 18 of which he has been a foreman. When he began work in the car shops in 1878, 18 men were employed. This number has now grown to 70.

A bottle of Scotch whiskey secreted in the old Monmouth house at Melrose Falls about a hundred years ago has just been discovered. This is the only brick house in that section of the state and every part was made and fashioned by hand, the clay being moulded from a nearby clay bank.

Albert Liedtke, pastry cook at the Equinox house in Manchester, made an enormous cake, pie and loaf of bread for exhibition at the fair. About $20 was realized from the sale of tickets on them at five cents each. Henry Dyer of Manchester baked the pie, while Mrs. Edward Holden of Bennington baked the cake and the bread. The loaf was nearly six feet long.

The team which was hired by a stranger from the proprietor of the Barrewell house at Rutland Thursday morning has not been seen yet and the police are working on the suspicion that the thieves were a part of the gang that robbed the postoffice at Hydeville that night. The owner of the house says it was a good one and could easily have made 150 miles Thursday and Friday.

In the ten years that rural free delivery route No. 1 out of Vergennes has been conducted, H. W. Spooner as carrier or his substitute has never missed a trip. Over 100,000 miles have been traveled and at a low estimate 1,200,000 pieces of mail have been handled. This route is 24 miles long and has nominally 500 patrons. When the route was first started only six daily papers were taken and to-day 100 are distributed.

COULD NOT HAVE SIGNED BOND.
Defendant Given Verdict in Strange Case in Orleans County Court.

Newport, Sept. 21.—The jury in Orleans county court brought in a verdict for the defendant Saturday in the Personal Help Publishing Co., of Des Moines, Iowa, vs. Mark R. Warner, of Westfield, on trial last week. The defendant was sued on a bond bearing his name and which bond agreed to pay the plaintiff any indebtedness to him from Elmer Warner, brother of the defendant.

It appeared that his name was written on it by his sister who says she supposed he understood about it. But he testified that he knew nothing about it, as he was sick and unconscious at the time. Dr. W. A. Young testified that he was attending the defendant at that time, that defendant was suffering from strabismic hernia, and operation therefor, and from acute peritonitis, was unconscious from effects of ether and morphine, and totally collapsed and unable to comprehend anything. George B. Young and A. R. Groat appeared for plaintiff, J. W. Redmond and O. S. Annis for defendant.

CROSSINGS ABOLISHED
Two of Them on Central Vermont Railroad in Town of Cambridge.

Newport, Sept. 20.—The Vermont public service commission has handed down a decision on the hearing held in Cambridge Aug. 18, in regard to the petition by the Central Vermont railway against the town of Cambridge for the abolishing of two grade crossings. The commission reports that the railway company's allegations are true and the two crossings are two of the most dangerous on the road. As a result of the hearing the town of Cambridge is ordered to lay out and construct two connecting portions of highway which must be completed on Dec. 15. The expense of the work will be borne by the town of Cambridge, the state and Central Vt. R. R. in the following proportions: the town of Cambridge 10 per cent, the state 25 per cent and the Central Vt. R. R. 65 per cent. The finding of the commission is signed by John W. Redmond and Eli H. Porter, members of the public service commission.

LITTLE TO APPLY ON DEBT.
George A. Shaw's Creditors Won't Get Much From His Estate.

Rutland, Sept. 21.—George A. Shaw of Hartford, a car inspector, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with Clark S. Platt of the United States court. His liabilities are $347.28 and his assets amount to $268.66 of which $250 is exempt.

FRED KENT WAS A FUGITIVE.

Escaped as Did His Brother From State Asylum Authorities.

Rutland, Sept. 21.—That Fred Kent of Townsend, who was indicted by the grand jury in Windham county court at Newfane Friday on the charge of murdering his father, George Kent, was formerly an inmate of the state asylum at Waterbury and made his escape from that institution some years ago, as did his brother, Elroy Kent, who is now awaiting sentence for the murder of Della B. Congdon at Kent Washington is recalled here.

Fred Kent was an epileptic when taken to the state asylum and got away while working with a gang on the farm at Sudbury, across the river where some of the prisoners are kept busy.

FAMOUS OLD WAGON.

Has Hauled as Much Money as There Is in the World.

People in Washington who daily pass the treasury building and see backed up to its curb an old van of a wagon drawn by three patient white horses do not realize the intimate link that this conveyance bears to all the money there is. They are not aware that every piece of paper money that every individual in the United States has spent or hoarded in the past twenty-six years has first ridden in that wagon. They do not know that the sum of money this wagon has hauled is equal to all the money there is in the world today.

The old wagon is a great curiosity, but modest withal. It piles regularly between the bureau of engraving and printing and the treasury, always loaded down with rectangular packages of twelve and a half pounds each. In every package are 4,000 bills. If the bills are of the lowest denomination the package is worth $4,000; if of the highest, $10,000. It is worth $40,000,000. One package of this great value once rode in the wagon.

It would take a string of hay wagons twenty miles long to hold the money that has passed through this old van. If the packages were piled one on top of the other they would make a monument fifteen miles high. If the bills were placed end to end the string would be 250,000 miles long, or equal to ten times the distance around the world. They would carpet a road fifty feet wide from New York to San Francisco. Their weight in coal would supply the average family with fuel for 250 years. Had an expert begun counting this money in the days of Columbus when Mr. Trent was inaugurated.

All these and many more stupendous facts might be cited with reference to the old money wagon. Yet it goes unnoticed in Washington, and not one citizen in a hundred realizes that any interest attaches to it. Few people in Kentucky ever saw Mammoth cave; the native of Arizon has never taken the trouble to visit the Grand canyon, nor New Yorkers Niagara. The gold of De Soto was always a little farther on. The land of one's desire is that to which he cannot possibly go. There are realms of romance without end, but no man ever confessed to living in one. It is human nature that the unreality of distance is the haze that makes all things interesting.—Washington Post.

SUBMARINE RIVERS.

Cold Water Currents Flowing Along the Deep Sea Bottom.

The bottom currents of seas and oceans, such as those which possibly bring amber to our shores, are strangely disposed. The seigneur of Sark some fifty years ago was shipwrecked in his yacht near the island of Guernsey. He lost, among other things, a well fastened, strongly made chest containing silver plate. It was found a year later in deep water off the coast of Norway and restored to him.

In the really deep sea over a thousand fathoms down there are well marked broad currents which may be described as rivers of very cold water (only 4 degrees or so above freezing point). They flow along the deep sea bottom and are sharply marked off from the warmer waters above and to the side. Their inhabitants are different from those of the warmer water. They are due to the melting of the polar ice, the cold water so formed sinking at once owing to its greater density below the warmer water of the surface currents.

These deep currents originate in both the arctic and antarctic regions.—Sir Ray Lankester in London Telegraph.

MAN IN ISOLATION.

He is of Little Consequence and is a Barrier to Progress.

It is not an easy thing for a man to separate himself from the thought and activity and purpose of the community in which he lives and to pursue an isolated, disconnected and selfish part. He can't do it, indeed, and if he tries it he will only reduce himself to a cipher or stumbling block. The community will get on somehow, for it must, but if it has many members of this kind it will be dull, heavy and unprogressive.

Man in isolation is of little consequence, next to nothing. His association with others, the inspiration he receives from others, draw out his own powers. "The state," to this day, as Plato conceived it, remains "a product of mind." Out of the action and interaction of currents of mind, affected and even directed by variant views or opinions, comes the whole progress of man, of society, of the human race. We want what Burke described as "that action and counteraction which in the natural and political world, from the reciprocal struggle of discordant powers, draw out the harmony of the universe."

The most isolated man cannot separate himself from the situation he lives in. If such isolation were general or could be general it would be the negation of civilization.—Portland Oregonian.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and soft hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A person cannot be bald, and have a good temper. Baldness, in a man, is a sign of a man who has been a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newell's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

One Dollar Bottles Guaranteed.
